

Full Title:

Muddle Town: A Self Help Guide for Those Struggling Through the Tribulation

Author (sole contributor):

Christian Lovgren

Word Count:

81,448

Page Count:

312

Publication Date:

February 14, 2012

Barcode Price:

$12.95

Discount Rate:

30-40%

ISBNs:

Paperback: 0985056304 / 9780985056308

Pdf: 0985056312 / 9780985056315

ePub: 0985056320 / 9780985056322

Paperback Binding:

Perfect

Publisher & Imprint:

EngineHeadOut

Status:

ACT

Bisac Subject Code:

FIC039000

Bisac Audience Code:

TRA

Casepack Quantity:

Amount ordered

Dimensions:

(L) 8.5" x (W) 5.5" x (D) 0.6"

Weight:

0.8 lbs.

Condition:
New/Unused

Synopsis:

Set in a world on the brink of societal collapse, Asher Radezlav, a mentally ill, drug addict punk-rocker believes he is witnessing events in the media and his dreams that will culminate in the end of the world. He and his urban-cowboy brother, Danny, both operate The Eighth Plague, a series of bars, eateries, and living establishments that cater to the outlandish and rejected, as well as a toy factory left to them by their parents called B.A. Toys, Inc. Asher's charm, influence, and unique sense of humor call an additional cavalcade of freaks and ne'er-do-wells into a booze and drug fueled end times rebellion. As Asher slips between the dream-world and waking life, spouting pontifications of prose and immersing us in a deluge of hallucinatory fits both narcotic and epileptic, one could be left to ponder, what is real and what is madness?